Reframe Your Thinking: Resilience Reinvented

Join us at the 2022 ASHA Convention as we celebrate the knowledge we have gained and discoveries we have made, both professionally and personally, over the past few years with our theme “Reframe Your Thinking: Resilience Reinvented.”

Our theme has inspired us to look at the ASHA Convention with fresh eyes. In the spirit of innovation, we have been rethinking and reinventing our annual event by making some changes this year. In addition to the immersive learning and networking experience our attendees count on, the 2022 ASHA Convention will feature these exciting new or updated features:

- A reconfigured Exhibit Hall plan designed to draw in attendees throughout the day and a return to a traditional, thriving Exhibit Hall that maximizes exhibiting opportunities.

- NEW this year! The Exhibit Hall will OPEN EARLY on Wednesday, November 16 from 4–7 p.m. to provide more unopposed time to interact with attendees.

- We’ll kick off the 2022 ASHA Convention with a Welcome (Back!) Celebration in the Exhibit Hall on Wednesday.

- An improved hybrid education option will be offered for those who are unable to attend in person.

Your participation and support have never been more important to our members and affiliates. Attendees are ready to meet you in person and learn about the cutting-edge solutions your company offers. The ASHA Convention is the ideal place to spotlight your newest or most popular products and services.
Our Attendees Are Ready to Gather In Person Again

What Our Attendees Liked Most About the ASHA Convention Exhibit Hall*

Our members value their once-a-year opportunity to learn more about YOUR services, see YOUR products, and ask YOU questions in person.

The Exhibit Hall had a huge variety of materials, [as well as] learning new techniques and strategies I can implement in my therapy sessions.

Feeling inspired and reenergized after seeing the products in the Exhibit Hall.

The many, many exhibitors in the Exhibit Hall which allowed me to learn about new products and companies.

The Exhibit Hall, where vendors could explain their products and see the products in action.

The ability to see all the exhibitors and products in one place is priceless.

Being an exhibitor at a large conference is hard work. Long hours and lots of follow-up are required to get a return on the significant investment of time and resources. ASHA seems to understand how hard exhibitors work. In the morning they provided me coffee, throughout the day they provided a lounge for me to escape the chaos and, as the day was ending, they provided me a cool refreshment and a snack. Both volunteer leaders and staff of ASHA came by my booth to thank me and asked if I needed anything. ASHA places a high value in our relationship. It is a pleasure to support such a thoughtful association.”

Bradley J Lund, Executive Director
Neuro-Developmental Treatment Association

The Exhibit Hall, where vendors could explain their products and see the products in action.

Learning about new products in the Exhibit Hall that I was previously unaware of.

I love the Exhibit Hall and being able to talk to representatives about the products, have my hands on their products, and ask questions about materials or new products.

Interacting with peers that are as excited about this career as I am.

[The] sense of community. I liked getting to meet SLPs and audiologists from all over the country—and all over the world.

Connecting with new and familiar colleagues in an environment where it is safe to explore new horizons or reinforce your wealth of knowledge.”

The opportunity to be surrounded by motivated, fresh thinking individuals who are committed to the field and making a difference for their clients.”
